Informatec acquires Jedox Business from Entech

Informatec expands its BI business and takes over the Jedox activities with all existing customers of Entech AG from Kilchberg/ZH. In this way, the company is strengthening its competence in the area of Corporate Performance Management with additional customers, resources and know-how.

Muttenz, 08.05.2018 – In addition to the established BI application areas of analysis and reporting, the BI specialist from the Basel Area is intensifying its activities in the emerging area of planning and budgeting. Informatec is taking over all customer contracts of Kilchberg-based Jedox specialist Entech Enterprise Technology AG with immediate effect as part of a succession plan. This company is specialized in the provision of sophisticated, business-critical IT solutions in finance and controlling and counts companies such as AEK onyx, Lonstroff or Kantonspital Graubünden among its customers.

Roger Müller, owner of Entech, and his Jedox specialist Dieter Egli will continue to work for Jedox customers alongside Informatec's BI consultants.

"With this acquisition, we are specifically strengthening our power in the planning environment with the professional planning tool Jedox and are setting another clear signal for our strategy in the market. In addition, Jedox and our core technology Qlik complement each other perfectly and add significant value to our demanding SME and enterprise customers," said Rino Mentil, founder and CEO of Informatec, explaining the acquisition.
