

Qlik honours top partners in Switzerland - Heyde and Informattec accept awards

Qlik honours innovation and performance of Swiss partners

Zurich, March 30, 2017 - QlikView, a leading provider in the field of visual analytics, has honoured two very successful partners at their Business Partner Meeting in Bern this year: Thus Heyde (Switzerland) AG received the award as the "Best Performing Solution Provider Switzerland 2016" and Informattec Ltd. liab.Co. the "Innovation Award Switzerland 2016". The awards are presented in recognition of excellent project implementation of business intelligence solutions in various sectors with a variety of requirements. Apart from revenue levels, other evaluation criteria include adherence to budget, the business plan and consulting expertise.

Informattec, which has been a QlikView Elite Solution Provider since early 2017, was particularly distinguished in 2016 for a three-digit growth in sales. This was primarily achieved in the area of new customer business. Informattec is also the first partner in the DACH region to implement the QlikView analytics platform - in a comprehensive project in the Swiss banking sector. The opening of the official QlikView Training Center in the Basel area and the award of 5 Qlik sector expertise qualifications were further milestones for Informattec in 2016. The company's excellent marketing was also highlighted.

Heyde, a QlikView Elite Solution provider since 2014, scored with its triple-digit revenue growth, thereby ranking among the top DACH Qlik partners. The path to award achievement was paved, among other things, by committed marketing and a successful stop-off in Zurich during the 2016 Qlik Sense tour. The sophisticated QlikView implementations with the integration of complex CRM environments were also award-winning. In previous years, the Swiss system integrator has already reaped awards - such as the "Partner of the Year" award and the "Open & Straightforward Award" for the DACH region. Heyde is a member of QlikView Partner Advisory Council (a group within the QlikView community where selected partners across the EMEA region exchange ideas). He has expertise in the sectors of wholesale trade, retail trade, manufacturing, services and health care.

"Heyde and Informattec are reliable and powerful partners that stand out for their high degree of know-how. We cooperate with them on an equal footing. Both invest a lot in successful customer relationships, which is reflected in their high number of enthusiastic customers. I am delighted that we can highlight the commitment of both partners in this way", said Robert Schmitz, General Manager for Central & Eastern Europe.
